The Foremost Response, Inc. Energy Industry Services division provides uniformed protective and specialized services for owners and operators of energy facilities and production properties.

Based on specific customer orders, Foremost Response, Inc. can provide a low, medium, or high uniformed security profile presence with small or large teams. Foremost Response, Inc. is very aware of the need in maintaining a positive relationship with landowners, operator's, and the public, while discretely providing high quality security management services. Services and support include manned Access Control Points, Remote Area Patrol Services, Computerized Log In/Out Services of equipment, personnel, and events, utilizing a proprietary computerized system developed specifically for the Energy Industry Services division. Advanced tools in use include vehicle GPRS system, IDS systems, video, surveillance / counter surveillance, vehicle mounted computers, and local radio networks.

The nature of Energy Industry Service contracts with energy customers mandates close adherence to stringent Health & Safety requirements. Security Officers are responsible for providing, maintaining and performing all necessary security functions in accordance with the Foremost Response, Inc. Energy Industry Services Client Specific Security Program. This includes protecting energy facilities against sabotage, theft, access control, in-field threat assessments and summoning assistance to prevent or delay improper acts.

All these facilities involve perimeter protection and access control in remote area's throughout western Colorado & western Wyoming. Remote Area Patrols are done by dedicated special 4 wheel drive vehicles that have on-board computer systems, CB radios, and other communications devices. Some facilities use ATV Teams for perimeter patrol and quick access to all areas of the facility. Camera and other surveillance systems are used when requested by the client and include the latest technologies for recording, archiving, and IP addressable DVRs.

Experience that Counts

Foremost Response, Inc. has an entire division of services that specializes in the unique security challenges of the Energy Industry and their operations in western Colorado & western Wyoming. Foremost Response has invested in the latest equipment and computer software to address the accountability needs of production companies in remote areas for safety and security programs.

Foremost Response, Inc. currently provides security services for the construction of the nation's largest Natural Gas Processing Plant. This is a full time long term project and a very high profile project with specific/special security concerns. Upon completion this will become part of the national infrastructure and have specific/special strategic value. It requires the utmost in professionalism from a security provider.

Foremost Response currently provides a dedicated security program for Occidental Oil & Gas Corporation (OXY) - Rock Mountain Asset Team. This program is currently the largest single dedicated security team in western Colorado. It involves 18+ fulltime Security Agents who man several property access points 24/7, several fulltime Remote Area Vehicle Patrols who roam nearly 40,000+ acres and use the latest technology to carry out their duties. This program is a sizable undertaking and requires a highly trained, skilled, and well managed security team.
