Foremost Response, Inc. as a Colorado based company owned by JJ Sutton. JJ is a Certified Protection Specialist and a Certified Anti-Terrorism Specialist. The Certified Protection Specialist (C.P.S.) and Certified Anti-Terrorism Specialist (C.A.S.) are special designations and credentials awarded to only select professionals completing extensive training.

Mr. Sutton has nearly two decades of experience with Intelligence and Security Operations worldwide. He has completed military tours in Germany, Croatia, and Bosnia; all at very high echelons or Joint Task Force assignments with the United Nations, NATO, and the National Intelligence Cell (NIC) Sarajevo. His private security related experience includes tailored security / protective services to clients during the 2002 Winter Olympics, Personal Protection for the President of Haiti and First Family in the high threat environment of Port Au Prince, Haiti. Overall Mr. Sutton has traveled and worked in 22 other countries.

Since Mr. Sutton's inception of Foremost Response, Inc. as a security firm based initially in Aspen, CO. he has fulfilled a vision of delivering high quality security services to clients locally, nationally and internationally. His firm Foremost Response, Inc. now is the fastest growing security firm in the region. Key note operations include supporting security services to the construction of the nation's largest natural gas processing plant, having the largest dedicated security team in western Colorado for an Energy Industry client, staffing private security officers for the largest events in western Colorado, working to support local Law Enforcement Agencies with securing complex Crime Scenes, watching Inmates requiring hospital medical attention, and being the only full service security firm in the state to have a dedicated full time K9 Division (includes private narcotics detection & explosives & firearms detection). Foremost Response, Inc. has become one of the broadest based and best resourced security firms in western Colorado.

Fall of 2006 Foremost Response, Inc. acquired Victory Defense Consulting and now has the only high end tactically focused training & consulting service to Law Enforcement & Military in western Colorado. This Training Division specializes in reality based training concepts for their clients using new technologies and training tools. Thru a strategic partnership with Mi2 International, Inc. Foremost Response, Inc. is now bringing several new products to their training programs that are just coming to market or have just completed their testing and evaluation phases. Mr. Sutton believes in applying the same philosophy and desire to deliver a high quality service which made Foremost Response, Inc. a well recognized and preferred security services provider to his Training Division. The client references for this training division's capabilities are already strong and very humbling.
